

Chuck Neuwohner, (He/Him)

Chief Program Officer | Opportunity Village | Association of Providers – Board President.

Born and raised in Las Vegas, Chuck has two grandsons and enjoys spending time with family and friends, as well as in outdoor activities throughout Nevada. He's been a life-long contributor to his community through efforts in health care, education, and nonprofit service provision.

Chuck earned his B.S. from UNLV, later pursuing postgraduate and graduate course work and research at both UNLV and Stanford University. Some of his previous callings include an Emergency Medical Technician, acute setting patient care coordinator, a high school science and math teacher, a student Dean, and a Vice Principal.

Examples of Chuck's local volunteerism include service through The State of Nevada Association of Providers (Board President), Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada Transportation Access Advisory Committee (Member), The Center Foundation (Board Treasurer), The CARE Coalition (past Board Treasurer), For the Children (past Board Member), Autism Cares (contributor), and FBI Citizens Academy (alum and contributor) among other involvements.

Currently the Chief Program Officer at Opportunity Village, he leads teams serving people with intellectual, developmental, and related disabilities from early childhood through senior citizen. Programs and services overseen include day habilitation, prevocational, job development, supported employment, residential services, and residential housing, along with a variety of case management, behavioral, and nursing ancillary supports.

Chuck looks forward to serving Nevadans as a Member of the Rehabilitation Council for the State of Nevada.
